Brass Components Electrical Industry

Electrical Industry Components

- Examples of brass components manufactures by process of pressure die and gravity die casting.
- We have a range of electrical components which we can supply to the industry, examples of which are shown on our catalogue.
- We also manufacture an extensive range of electrical components for specific customers who own their own tools and dies.
- We have the manufacturing capacity to cater for further products from existing or new customers in the electrical industry.

Manufacture of Non-Ferrous Castings

Our foundry uses the pressure die casting and gravity die casting processes. Machined cores are used for intricate inner shapes in some casting. We produce castings from 20 grams to 5000 grams. Materials used are mainly commercial grades of brass and aluminium.

By employing the use of over 100 machines of various sizes, and the trained staff at our disposal, we have over 30 years of expert experience at manufacturing non-ferrous castings.
